

Yes, the irrigation bond does not protect your interests, it protects the state's interest. General liability is a must for any contractor working on or selling irrigation systems.